San Francisco Chronicle

“Tastes like a village Burgundy with floral notes and heady perfume suggesting rose petals veiled over strawberries. Yet there are also earthy, wet clay hints, and tannins that grip all the way to the end. Made entirely from Pinot Noir, it's a winner, especially if you like a light bodied Burgundy with great maturity and balance.”

2004 SANCERRE

LA POUSSIE is considered a jewel of the Sancerre vineyards. The vineyard site forms a natural semi-circle of 180 degrees, making it unique among vineyards. Its origins have been traced to the Capetians and documented as beginning in 1040. Of the many centuries-old growths that dominate the Loire River, La Pousseie continues to enjoy a revered reputation. The finest pinot noir grapes are reserved for a subtle and delicate SANCERRE ROUGE.
