2003 LA POUSSIE SANCERRE BLANC
SANCERRE

La Poussie, jewel of the Sancerre vineyards, is a voluptuous, aromatic wine. It produces a light, fruity, dry and vigorous Sauvignon Blanc, infused with the clay and limestone soil. The exceptional vineyard site with its natural amphitheater of an almost perfect semi-circle of 180° make it one of the most unique in the world.

Winemaking

Selective vinification after slow pressing, depending on the origin of the must. Thermo-regulated fermentation. Raised on fine lees and blended after eight to ten months in the vats.

Tasting Notes

Crystal clear and green-gold in color. The wine's intense aromas are remarkably clean and a perfect reflection of the clay and chalky soils of La Poussie. The initial aromas are flowery with broom, eglantine and acacia. Fruity notes of peaches and apricot emerge, followed by a powerful and complex mineral component. On the palate, the wine has an initial freshness followed by a pleasant, fruity fullness. About midway through, it is delicate, supple and harmonious. The finish is clean and lingering.
