

Upon his discovery of the 134-acre Napanook vineyard in 1981, Christian Moueix founded Dominus Estate to produce one of Napa Valley's most acclaimed cabernet sauvignons. The vineyard's volcanic, well-draining soils are specifically suited to growing Bordeaux varietals, and winemaker Tod Mostero vinifies each dry-farmed parcel separately. Attention to detail is second to none, with minimal intervention allowing the terroir to fully express itself in the wine.

CHRISTIAN MOUEIX Founder & Owner

One of the most respected wine producers in the world, Christian Moueix is on a personal journey that began in Bordeaux and continues today at Dominus Estate. Christian Moueix is ardently committed to responsible stewardship of the land and his respect for the history of Napanook vineyard is conveyed in a property that is improved for future generations.

WINEMAKING

- Precise pruning and dry farming enhance grape quality
- Handpicked grapes minimize damage; clusters preserved in small baskets
- Lot-by-lot fermentation; gentle pumping-over extracts aromas and tannins.
- Aging in 100% French oak with barrel-to-barrel racking for clarity.
